About The Railroad.

Those who have laid aside their faily avocations to work for the railroad (all honor to their public-spiritdness) have been out nearly every day talking with the land owners and trying to get the matter in tangible shape. Notwithstanding the fact that everyoody realizes the vast importance of Garrard county getting the road, yet unreasonable in their demands. In fixing their damages, they seem to lose sight of what benefits the road will be to them, and the further fact that if they own a farm that what they save in advanced prices for pro-Some firms think it business to have no ducts will, in a short time, more than triple what they may lose in parting conscience, sell people any old thing if they'll with a little strip of land. Mr. H. Myers, no Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do me no good I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large, red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass."

Country Offices Doom d.

The rural postoffice is surely doomed. The department intends to discontinue more than a thousand during the coming year. Farmers will get their mail delivered at their houses, and the postal route will radiate from the larger towns. If free rural delivery is to be made a financial success the department finds it necessary to abolish the small offices. There is every indication that there will be a great eyes, will be happy and laughing all change in the conduct of postal business in tha next few years.
